Maintain or improve your current accreditation, seek continual improvement through performance appraisal and ongoing coach education and be open to other people's opinions. Provide a safe environment for training and competition.
- Provide feedback to players and other participants in a manner sensitive to their needs. Avoid overly negative feedback and enforce that coming first is not always the priority.

- Treat all players fairly within the context of their sporting activities, regardless of gender, race, place of origin, athletic potential, colour, sexual orientation, religion, political beliefs, socioeconomic status and other conditions.
- Determine, in consultation with the player, what information is confidential and respect that confidentiality.
- Encourage and facilitate players' independence and responsibility for their own behaviour, performance, decisions and actions.
- Involve the players in decisions that affect them.
- Encourage players to respect one another and to expect respect for their worth as individuals regardless of their level of play.
- Ensure that the tasks and/or training set are suitable for age, experience, ability, and physical and psychological conditions of the players. Recognise individual differences in players and cater to these as best you can.
- Ensure any physical contact with players is appropriate to the situation and necessary for the player's skill development.
- Be acutely aware of the power that you as a coach develop with your players in the coaching relationship and avoid intimacy with players that could develop as a result.

- Actively discourage the use of performance enhancing drugs, and the use of illegal substances.
- Actively discourage the regular use of alcohol and tobacco.
